

Comprehension 4

Hello, Nutty here again.

I'm back in the big hills and this time I've got some big shoes and a pair of sticks. I think they are called skis. I've also got a warm jumper with my name on.

I am at the bottom of one of those enormous hills and somehow I have to get to the top!

I think I will have to look for an old lady!

I'm searching around but all the people look young.

I don't think old ladies do this sliding down hills so I might have to find someone else, anyone with a bag!

Here we are. In I go! It smells a bit, nice not nasty. Sort of perfumy and sweet, but still nothing to eat.

Whoops! That was a close one, just got my sticks down in time. Now we're swaying from side to side and my ears are popping. When is it going to stop?

Questions:

1. Why do you think Nutty wanted to return to the big hills?

2. What did he remember to bring with him this time to keep out the cold?

3. What did he say it was like in the bag?

4. How did he nearly get caught?

5. Why was he swaying from side to side?

6. Can you describe what he might have seen when he got out of the bag?
